VENDOR PACKET

Corporate event photography

Angelito Jusay Photography is a corporate event photography business based in Edison, New Jersey, serving New York City and the tri-state area, established in 2011. We photograph conferences, client and investor events, keynotes, executive dinners, brand activations and product launches for financial institutions, global brands and the experiential agencies that produce their events.

Services

Corporate event photography
Conferences, client and investor events, keynotes, panel discussions, executive dinners and internal celebrations, photographed discreetly around senior leaders and guests.

Executive and team headshots
Consistent, professional headshots for leadership, speakers and teams, taken on site at your office or during your event.

Brand, marketing and communications photography
Brand activations, product launches and workplace imagery for internal communications, recruiting, social media and press.

Key capabilities

- Next-morning highlights for press and internal communications; complete galleries within about one week
- Coordinated teams of two or more photographers for large conferences, simultaneous sessions and multi-day programs
- Consistent results across multi-location and multi-day campaigns
- Experience working with experiential and event agencies, within the run of show and the client's brand guidelines
- Private online galleries, organized for easy download and sharing across your team
- Usage license for internal, marketing, public relations and social media use, with no expiration

Working with financial institutions

Client forums, investor days and leadership events often involve confidential material and senior guests. Our standard practices are built for that.

Confidentiality

We sign your NDA before the event and keep everything we see and photograph confidential.

Sensitive material kept out of frame

Screens, slides, documents and badges with confidential information are kept out of frame or flagged for removal, and we follow your guidance on any guests who should not be photographed.

Private events stay private

If your event is private or confidential, tell us in writing before the event and no images from it are published, including in our portfolio. Confidential information is never published without your written permission.

Secure delivery

Galleries are private and password-protected, shared only with the contacts you designate.

File retention and deletion

Online galleries stay active for 90 days; edited final images are archived for 3 years and then deleted. Files are deleted sooner on written request.

A discreet presence

Quiet, professional coverage around executives and clients, in business attire and following your run of show.
